Asus transformer factory reset button

If you plan to sell a PlayStation 4, you can reset it by disabling your PSN account and deleting all files on the console so they can be factory-factoryed. RELATED: HTG Check playstation 4: When the console is just a (large) console You only have to do a couple of things to wipe the PlayStation 4 completely. You first need to disable your PSN account from the console so that the new owner can log in with their own account, and then you need to wipe everything from the hard drive completely, which puts the software back in mode, as it was when you first pulled the PS4 out of the box. Step 1: Deactivate your PSN account from psn account ps4 won't completely delete your PSN account – it just disconnects your account on a specific PS4. It's kind of similar to turning off Find My iPhone and logging out of iCloud on the iPhone you're selling. On the main screen of your PS4, press Up on the controller and you will see the latest notifications. Press Right on the controller until you reach Settings. Pick it. Scroll down and select PlayStation Network/Account Management. Click Activate as primary PS4. On the next screen, Deactivate may be grayed out, which technically means that your account is already disabled, but just to make sure it is, you can activate it and then deactivate it. There have been many stories where sellers think they're disabling their account, but the new owner couldn't sign in because the seller's account was still there, so check this by selecting Activate on this screen. Click OK when it is complete. Click Reactivate as Primary PS4. Select Deactivate. On the next screen, click Yes to confirm this action. Click OK when it is complete. PS4 restarts, so you need to press the PS button on the controller to get back to the main menu. Then select your user account (which is different from the PSN account). From there, they'll bring you back to the main menu. Step 2: Wipe PS4 Now that your PSN account is disabled on PS4, you can completely delete the console, which will remove everything from it and put it back to factory condition. From the main menu of ps4, press Up on the controller and you will see the latest notifications. Press Right on the controller until you reach Settings. Pick it. Scroll down and select Initialization. Click Format PS4. You have two options: Fast or Full. A quick initialization is just that – it quickly wipes all data, but not very safely. So, someone with specialized software can recover any of this data. Full initialization wipes all data securely and prevents others from restoring data. However, this process can take several hours. It's best to choose a full format. After you select one, click Initialize to confirm the action. press Yes on the next screen to confirm again. PS4 restarts and the process begins. This, too, will take at least a couple of hours, although it says there is less time left. When it is done, the installation guide will appear on the screen, where it will ask you to connect the PS4 controller to the console using a USB cable. At this point, you can turn off the console by pressing the power button on your PS4 until it sounds a beep. Remove the plug, pack it and prepare for sale. If your Windows 10 PC runs slowly or abnormally, one sure way to fix the problem is to factory reset. This is also recommended if you are selling your computer. This is how it happens. Before you start the factory reset process, be sure to back up the files. Otherwise, some important information may be irrevocably lost. When you are ready to factory reset your Windows 10 PC, click the Start button to open the Windows Settings menu, and then select the Gear icon. The Settings window will now appear. Select the Update & Security option at the bottom of the window. The left pane now displays a list of Update & Security options. Click Restore here. Now you are in the recovery window. Carefully read the description under Restore this computer, and then click Start. When selected, the Reset This Computer window appears. There are two options to choose from: Keep my files: This option keeps all your personal files when you delete installed apps and system settings. Delete All: This will wipe your Windows 10 PC completely. Choose the option that works best for you. In the next window, you will see a message that shows what happens when you reset your computer. This message is different depending on the method you selected in the previous step. When you're done, click the Reset button. Your Windows 10 PC will now start factory resetting. This can take several minutes, so be patient. When the process is complete, the computer restarts. There are many reasons why you want to reset your iPad: maybe you're selling it, or there's a flaw that just resetting can fix, or maybe you've just messed up the operating system and want to clean it up easily. However, it is not always easy - the ability to reset iPad is hidden in the settings menu, and even if you find it, you can do five different resets. Reset iPhone | Macbook Pro | Apple Watch To get rid of certain data from your iPad, such as a keyboard dictionary or location history, you can reset certain pockets of data. First, open the Settings app – it's on the homepage by default, and the icon is grayed out and has chisel. Then, in the list of options on the left, select 'General', which is in the third cluster of options on the left. Now scroll directly to the end of this list. At the bottom, 'Turn Off' is 'Recover' - select this and you will be a large list of options. iPad Reset Menu (Photo Credit: Apple) You can select 'Restore Locations & Privacy' to delete all location data, 'Reset Start Screen Layout' to restore apps on your homepage (and wipe all your carefully curated folders), 'Reset Keyboard Dictionary' to delete all saved words and lexical settings and 'Reset Network Settings' to forget all saved Wi-Fi passwords. Hard resetting your iPad If you want to take the nuclear option and turn your iPad back into the device, that was when you first got it, then there's an alternative. However, remember to back up all your data first, either by taking it through the cloud or physically downloading it to your computer if there is something you don't want to lose. You can follow similar steps to backup iPhone to do this. When you're done, it's time to reset. Follow the previous steps until you get to the Recover menu. Now, select 'Delete all content and settings'. You need to put your password just to make sure that you are sure to wipe your data, and then your iPad will start cleaning up your banks. This process won't take long, and soon you'll have a good like a new iPad for yourself. These are the best iPads you can buy Last updated on November 18, 2020 If you're like me and really self-development, you've probably read many of the thousands of self-help books on the market. But like me, you find all the information a little overwhelming. That's why I wanted to do the self-selish task of taking the most important, life-changing lessons I've taken from these books and summarizing them in 50 key points. Here are 50 ways of successful people you should learn: 1. Believe it, our minds are focused on what's going on around us and refuse to see what might happen. Only when you trust what is possible and dare to dream big can great things happen to you. 2. See problems as a wonderful gift When others see only problems and give up, successful people use the problem as a lesson to find improvement in themselves or in the task at hand. 3. Keep looking for solutions Ass they're knee-deep in trouble, successful people will still focus on finding all their focus on finding solutions. 4. Keep in mind that it's all about Journey Successful people who are aware and methodical about creating their own success. They don't sit around doing the bare minimum, hoping that success will find them. 5. Feel fear and do it anyway There is so much fear on the way to success, but instead of letting fear rule and limit them, successful people do a good job of just for forgoing ahead regardless. 6. Always ask productive questions. Successful people ensure that they are questions that raise information to move forward with a more productive, creative and positive mindset. 7. Understand that the best wasting is complaining Successful people know that choosing to see the negative side of things create a useless and unproductive space. 8. Don't play blame game Taking responsibility for actions and results is a form of empowerment on which you can build on your success. While blaming other or outside circumstances will take away your this empowerment. 9. Maximize your strengths Not every successful person is simply more talented than others, but they use what they know are good at achieving more successful results. 10. Be there to beat se Successful people are busy, productive and proactive. Instead of sitting overthinking and planning a great idea, they just take a step towards it no matter how small. 11. Know That Success Attracts success people who thrive around themselves and look for like-minded people. They understand how important it is to be part of a team and for fork out win-win relationships. 12. In fact, Choose to succeed Dreaming is a massive part of success, even if your dream seems impossible. Ambition is a mindset that must be a daily conscious choice. 13. Visualize, visualize, visualize! You need to see your success in your mind even before it comes. Successful people clarify and get that assurance of what they want reality to look like instead of just being viewers of life. 14. Be unique to Original Successful people look for what works and then create a unique spin on it. Imitation just throws up each other's ideas without originality. 15. The perfect time to act is now waiting for the right time to act is basically procrastination wrapped in an excuse. Successful people know there's never a perfect time, so they might as well do it now. 16. Keep learning, keep growing Continuous learning is the key to a successful life. Whether it's academics, life studies or functional learning, it's about expanding knowledge and personal development. 17. Always look on the bright side of life Successful people have a knack for finding positive aspects of all people and circumstances regardless. 18. Bad day? Do it anyway! We all have bad vibes, but that shouldn't be an excuse to stop everything. Giving a bad mood will only stop your life, slow down success a lot. 19. Sometimes risky business is needed Calculation risks are mandatory for success. It is about weighing up the interests and the bad feeling while moving forward with that element of trust. 20. Take on the challenge All the problems to be left outright is a success. Successful people also face challenges to heal themselves. 21. Make your own luck in the mindset of a successful person there is no happiness or destiny. They take over to actively and consciously create their own best life. 22. Ignite Your Initiative Although many people are reactive, successful people are proactive – taking action before they have to. 23. Not Master Effective control of emotions is the key to success. That doesn't mean the successes aren't. successes. Like all of us, but they're just not slaves to their emotions. 24. Champion in Communication Consciously works with powerful communication skills, bringing anyone closer to success. 25. Plan Your Life Strategically Successful people's lives are not a clumsy series of unplanned events and results, but they work systematically to turn their plans into reality. 26. Become exceptional What you do You become exceptional, you usually have to do things that most people don't. In order to succeed, difficult decisions have to be taken, and it is crucial to act on them. 27. Choose to live outside the comfort zone While many people are pleasure junkies and avoid pain and discomfort at all costs, successful people understand the value and benefits of working through difficult stuff that most would avoid. 28. Live by core values Successful people first recognize their core values and what is important to them, and then do their best to live a life that reflects those values. 29. Understand that Money is not all Money and success is not interchangeable and the most successful people understand this. Putting money on a pedest stand and equating it with success is a dangerous mindset. Success is in many forms. 30. Don't get carried away Successful people understand the importance of discipline and self-control and as a result they are happy to travel on a less travelled road. 31. Intraige is not tied to success Successful people are safe. They don't get their innemies from what they own, who they know, where they live, or what they look like. 32. Kindness breeds kindness (and success) Generosity and kindness is a common feature among long-term successes. It's important to enjoy helping others achieve. 33. More humility, less arrogance Successful people are humble and happy to admit and apologize for mistakes. This is because they rely on their abilities. They like to learn from others and like to make others look good instead of looking for their own personal glory. 34. Change opens new doors Successful people are accommodating and embrace change, while most are creatures of comfort and habit. They thrive with the new and the unknown and embrace them. 35. Success requires a healthy body It's not just how you think, it's how you show up for success. Successful people physically understand the importance of well-being, not for unnecessary reasons, but because being in tiptop condition creates a better personal life for success. 36. Laziness just doesn't exist There are never people who are considered lazy. Yes, they can relax if needed, but hard work is their game. 37. Bucket load resilience When difficulty strikes, most throw in the towel, but successful people only warm up. 38. Feedback is only another chance to improve people react to feedback, determine their power of success. Being open to constructive criticism and working to improve it is reflected in the most successful. 39. Your atmosphere attracts tribe If tribe hang out with toxic and negative people, then they have to look at themselves. Successful people hang out with other positives and cheerers. 40. Can't you control it? Forget that successful people don't invest time or emotional energy in things they don't control. 41. Swim Against the Tide Successful people are not people's pleasers and do not need constant acceptance from others to move forward. 42. Alone time is valuable time More's intry means being more comfortable with your own company. Successful people are more satisfied and see the value of being alone. 43. Self-Standard is higher than Most Everyone can choose to set high standards for itself. Successful people do this, which in turn increases engagement, increases momentum, improves work ethic and, of course, improves results. 44. Failure is not rationalized Although many use age, health, lack of time, bad luck or lack of opportunity to explain their failure, the key to success is to find a way to succeed despite facing these challenges. 45. Down Time is an important part of the routine Having shutdown switch and taking time to do things that make them happy is a common feature of a successful person. See Here Scheduling The Importance of The Outage. 46. Career is not who you are, it is what you do Successful people know that their career is not their identity. They are multidimensional and do not define themselves by their work. 47. Be interested only in the path of resistance Although most people want the easiest way or shortcut, successful people are more interested in the most effective way. They want a down-to-action period that delivers the best results in the long run. 48. Follow Through Many spends his life starting things they'll never finish, but successful people will finish the job. Although the excitement and novelty are worn off, they still follow through and finish. 49. Invest in All Your Dimensions We are not only physical and psychological beings, but also emotional and spiritual beings. Successful people consciously work healthy and productive at all levels. 50. Put your money where your mouth is To succeed, it's important to practice what you preach. Successful people don't talk about theory, they live reality. There it is, a summary of what I've learned from self-help books. But of course, you need to start the action to get closer to success as well.
